

Arete means excellence in character and life. It is a move from the community of God, to a life of virtue, to a life well-lived. In this meditation on vice and virtue, the Rev. Tobin Wilson shares compelling and honest stories from his life in ministry - from the traumatic to the hilarious to the inspiring - that guide us to arete. Aided by the theologians, philosophers and artists of our past and present, Wilson weaves a narrative that strikes a balance between social justice and steadfast faith. His candid observations and insightful commentary will make you think differently about the Trinity, about salvation, and about grace.
